

Board of Directors' proposal on guidelines for remuneration to senior executives

The Board of Directors proposes that the 2024 Annual General Meeting resolve that the following guidelines for remuneration to senior executives must apply until the 2028 Annual General Meeting unless circumstances arise that require an earlier revision.

These guidelines cover the CEO and other members of executive management. The guidelines should apply to contractual remuneration and changes made to already agreed remuneration. The guidelines do not apply to remuneration decided by the General Meeting.

Guidelines' promotion of the Company's business strategy, long-term interests and sustainability

JM is one of the leading developers of housing and residential areas in the Nordic region. Operations focus on new production of homes in attractive locations, with the main focus on expanding metropolitan areas and university towns in Sweden, Norway and Finland. We are also involved in project development of commercial premises and contract work, primarily in the Greater Stockholm area. JM should promote long-term sustainability work in all its operations.

For more information about the business strategy, long-term interests and sustainability, see www.jm.se.

A successful implementation of the Company's business strategy and the protection of the Company's long-term interests, including its sustainability, require that the Company can recruit and retain qualified employees. This in turn requires that the Company offer competitive remuneration. These guidelines make it possible to offer senior executives competitive total remuneration.

The basis for remuneration to senior executives is the fulfillment of financial targets, customer satisfaction, sustainability and individual performance. A prerequisite for the payment of remuneration is compliance with policies, guidelines and JM's Code of Conduct.

Remuneration covered by these guidelines should aim to promote the Company's business strategy and long-term interests, including its sustainability.

The Company has offered for a number of years the possibility for all employees in Sweden, including executive management, to subscribe to convertible debentures. The General Meeting resolves on the programs, and they are thus not covered by these guidelines. After 2020, the Company has not offered any subscription to convertibles. The conversion period for the program from 2020 expires in May 2024. The Board of Directors has decided to not offer a new program in the next few years.

Forms of remuneration, etc.

Remuneration should be competitive and may consist of the following components: fixed cash salary, short- and long-term variable cash remuneration, pension benefits, and other benefits.

The fulfillment of criteria for payment of short-term variable cash remuneration must be measurable during a period of one year and may amount to at the most 50 percent of the total fixed cash salary during the measurement period. The long-term variable remuneration program must be measurable during a period of three years and may amount to at the most 50 percent of the total fixed cash salary during the year the program started.

For the CEO, pension benefits, including health insurance, must be defined-contribution. Variable cash remuneration may not be pensionable. The pension premiums for defined-contribution may amount at the most to 35 percent of the fixed cash monthly salary. Other senior executives are currently subject to an enhanced ITP plan and a premium-based pension reinforcement of a maximum of SEK 120,000 per year or 30 percent of the fixed cash annual salary exceeding 30 income base amounts. In the event another solution is selected, the pension benefits must be defined contribution — with pension premiums amounting to at the most 35 percent of the fixed cash salary — unless the executive is subject to a defined-benefit pension in accordance with the provisions of a collective agreement. Variable cash remuneration must be pensionable to the extent this applies under compulsory collective agreement provisions that are appropriate for the executive. The Board of Directors, based on a proposal from the CEO, may approve that retirement pension is offered to senior executives who have turned 62.

Other benefits may include life insurance, health insurance and a company car. Premiums and other costs related to such benefits may together total at the most 5 percent for the CEO and at the most 10 percent of the fixed average cash salary for other senior executives.

Additional cash variable remuneration may be paid in extraordinary situations, assuming that such extraordinary arrangements only are made at the individual level either with the aim of recruiting or keeping senior executives or as compensation for extraordinary tasks performed in addition to regular tasks. Such remuneration, for the person in question, together with the outcome of a short-term variable salary scheme, may not exceed an amount corresponding to the maximum possible payout for the short-term variable salary scheme for the payment year in question. Decisions on such remuneration must be made by the Board of Directors following a recommendation by the Compensation Committee.

Regarding employment conditions that are subject to rules other than those that apply in Sweden, for pension benefits and other benefits, reasonable adjustments may be made to comply with such mandatory rules or established local practice, in which case the overarching objective of these guidelines should be fulfilled to the greatest extent possible.

In exceptional cases, Group management may temporarily be supplemented with a non-regular member who is engaged on a consultancy basis. If this occurs, the member will only receive contractual consultant fees. The size of the consultant fee may correspond to at the most the CEO's fixed cash salary for the same period, adjusted upward for an amount corresponding to social security expenses.

Termination of employment

For the termination of employment, the notice period may be at the most twelve months. Fixed cash salary during the notice period and severance pay may together not exceed an amount corresponding to the fixed cash salary for two years for the CEO and one year for other senior executives. If notice of termination is given by the senior executive, the notice period may be at the most six months with no right to severance pay. In the event of an agreement between the Company and the executive on the termination of employment, the above wording means that the severance pay can be paid and/or the termination salary can be paid longer than when the notice of termination is given by the senior executive.

Criteria for distribution of variable cash remuneration, etc.

In addition to the financial performance of the operations, which carries the greatest weight, the short-term variable cash remuneration should also be based on sustainability goals and the outcome of customer surveys (Customer Satisfaction Index).

The long-term variable salary scheme is and will be based on the Group's performance targets three years forward in time and, where applicable, the performance of an individual unit.

The criteria that according to the above determine the outcome create incentives for employees to contribute to the realization of the Company's business strategy and thus long-term value creation. If the Board of Directors later were to assess that the business strategy and the Company's long-term interests, including its sustainability, would be better served if the criteria were amended or the targets otherwise modified, these guidelines allow for such changes.

When the measurement period to fulfill the criteria for the payment of variable cash remuneration has closed, the extent to which the criteria have been fulfilled must be determined. The Compensation Committee is responsible for the assessment of variable cash remuneration to the CEO. The CEO is responsible for the assessment of variable cash remuneration to other senior executives. For financial targets, the assessment should be based on the financial information the Company most recently made public.

Salaries and terms of employment for employees

When preparing the Board's proposal for these remuneration guidelines, salaries and terms of employment for the Company's employees were considered in that information about employees' total remuneration, the remuneration components, the increase in the remuneration and the rate of the increase over time formed a part of the Compensation Committee's and the Board's decision basis for the evaluation of the reasonableness of the guidelines and the limitations resulting from them. The remuneration report that is prepared for paid and outstanding remuneration covered by the guidelines reports on the change in the gap between the senior executives' remuneration and other employees' remuneration.

Decision process to determine, review and implement the guidelines

The Board of Directors has established a Compensation Committee. The committee's tasks include preparing the Board's decisions on proposed guidelines for remuneration to senior executives. The Board must prepare a proposal for new guidelines at least every four years and present the proposal for resolution by the Annual General Meeting. The guidelines should apply until new guidelines are adopted by the General Meeting. The Compensation Committee should also monitor and evaluate the program for variable remuneration to senior executives, the application of guidelines for remuneration to senior executives and the applicable remuneration structures and levels in the Company. The members of the Compensation Committee are independent in relation to the Company and senior executives. When the Board of Directors discusses and decides on remuneration-related matters, the CEO and other members of executive management do not attend the meetings to the extent they are affected by the matters.

Deviations from the guidelines

The Board of Directors may decide to temporarily deviate from the guidelines in full or in part if there are grounds for such a decision on a case-by-case basis and a deviation is necessary to ensure the Company's long-term interests, including its sustainability, or to ensure the Company's economic viability. As specified above, the Compensation Committee is tasked with preparing the Board's decisions on remuneration matters, which includes deviations from the guidelines.

Description of significant changes to the guidelines

There have been no material changes to the guidelines. The Board of Directors' proposal on guidelines for remuneration to senior executives for the 2024 Annual General Meeting is in line with the guidelines adopted at the 2023 Annual General Meeting. As part of the maximum possible long-term variable cash remuneration, all employees, including senior executives, were offered participation in the performance share program introduced in 2022. We intend to offer this program to all employees on an annual basis. Under this program, the participants make an investment and receive a cash contribution corresponding to half of the invested amount distributed across three payment occasions during the three-year duration of the program. After tax deductions, the net amount is invested in new JM shares.

Because we no longer offer participation in convertible programs to senior executives, as of 2023 they will be offered expanded possibilities for making own investments and thus also possibilities for higher cash contributions in the performance share program. The president can make an investment of at the most SEK 600,000. Other members of executive management are offered to invest a maximum of SEK 300,000. Even the Heads of Unit category are offered a greater investment possibility, up to a maximum of SEK 150,000. Other employees are offered an investment of a maximum of SEK 20,000.
